

MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2011 question paper for the guidance of teachers

8004 GENERAL PAPER

8004/12

Paper 1, maximum raw mark 100

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

- Cambridge will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2011 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Section 1

1 How effective, so far, are the measures your country has taken to counteract the global financial crises?

Key words: 'How effective...?' and 'so far' and 'your' and 'counteract' and 'global financial crises'.

- the extent to which your country suffered
- the sector(s) in which the main problems were experienced?
- the speed and effect of the reactions in 'your' country?
- give details of the measures taken and assess their effectiveness
- the situation of 'your' country now in compared with the period before the financial crises?
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

2 'Anybody who ignores history is foolish.' How far would you agree?

Key words: 'How far ...?' and 'ignores' and 'foolish'.

- an understanding and appreciation of history can give a pointer to future events
- ignoring history runs the risk of shutting eyes to the future
- those who do not learn from history are destined to repeat it
- we learn to understand change and how our society has evolved and will probably evolve
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

3 To what extent would you agree that your country has the government it deserves?

Key words: 'To what extent ...?' and 'your' and 'government it deserves'.

- people who do not exercise their democratic rights do not deserve them
- people who do not vote should not criticise the government
- those who are not prepared to confront corruption/injustice and dictatorial attitudes will have to suffer them
- answer must be based on 'your' country
- answer must show the link between the government and the attitudes/behaviour/participation of the citizens
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

4 How far should immigration be encouraged or discouraged?

Key words: 'How far ...?' and 'immigration' and 'encouraged or discouraged'.

- the response will depend on the location of the candidate
- immigration is a factor of globalisation and its success or not depends on various factors
- to be encouraged: to fill job vacancies, to fill a skills gap, to provide missing expertise, mostly economic reasons
- to be discouraged: where there is a shortage of jobs, people with no desirable skills
- dangers of overpopulation and cultural dilution
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

Section 2

6 Account for the strong preference for male babies in some societies.

Key words: 'Account for' and 'strong' and 'male' and 'some societies'.

- female infanticide has existed in a number of countries for thousands of years
- in Greece (200 BC) authorities did not oppose the killing of handicapped, female and unwanted children
- today it still persists in areas of India and China
- justified in a modern, globalised world?
- parents in rural China see boys as a 'pension' for their old age who will work for them and give them shelter
- similar ideas are found in parts of India and Pakistan where labouring in the fields ensures some income for families
- huge sums (dowries) have to be found to 'get rid of daughters' by marriage
- above all, it reflects the low status accorded to women in 'patriarchal' societies
- it also has links to the phenomena of sex-selection, abortion which targets female fetuses almost exclusively and general neglect of girl children
- all this has led to a distorted gender imbalance, e.g. a recent report claimed that some 110 million Chinese males will not be able to find a wife
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

7 Assess the advantages and disadvantages of hydroelectric power generation.

Key words: 'Assess' and 'advantages and disadvantages' and 'hydroelectric' and 'power generation'.

- advantages:
- cheap and reliable way of generating constant power after initial high building costs
- relatively eco-friendly
- easy to manage – power supply can be boosted/reduced
- well built dams are long lasting
- relies on natural water cycle, i.e. renewable
- very efficient low cost generation
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

- disadvantages:
- very expensive to build
- flooding behind dam destroys the natural environment
- people have to move from the area (1 million in China when the Three Gorges Dam was built)
- changing the river flow can lead to problems with neighbouring countries, e.g. countries bordering the Nile can be affected by lowered river levels
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

8 How effectively engaged are young people in environmentally friendly projects in your region?

Key words: 'How effective' and 'young' and 'environmentally friendly projects' and 'your'.

- examples wanted from 'your' region
- expect some variety in the responses from different countries
- detailed description of projects wanted (size/success of project and numbers of young people engaged)
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

9 Account for the popularity of console and computer games.

Key words: 'Account' and 'popularity' and 'games'.

- console/computer games provide entertainment in a technologically advanced way, i.e. in keeping with the times
- they are machines that allow people to play their favourite, compatible video games
- usually home-based entertainment
- players encouraged to improve and achieve higher levels
- examples are Playstation 3, Xbox360 and Nintendo Wii
- handheld examples, e.g. Nintendo DS and PSP
- teenagers tend to prefer Playstation3 and Xbox360 with cutting edge graphics, intensive participation and internet connection
- others, also older people, prefer Nintendo Wii because of the interaction with the chosen game
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

10 'Personal income should be sufficient to cover decent shelter, clothing and food.' How well are these 'basics' fulfilled in your society?

Key words: 'How well ...?' and 'decent shelter, clothing and food' and 'these basics' and 'your'.

- again a variety of responses expected depending on the relevant society/nation
- concrete examples needed not generalisations
- all three factors to be addressed, i.e. shelter/clothing/food
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

Section 3

11 To what extent has television had a negative impact on 'live' entertainment?

Key words: 'To what extent ...?' and 'television' and 'negative' and 'live entertainment'.

- a variety of responses possible depending again on the country of origin
- if TV is now the main means of home information/entertainment, what has it replaced and what has happened to previous forms of 'live' entertainment?
- the role still being played by traditional/new forms of 'live' entertainment
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

12 To what degree have local languages influenced spoken and/or written English in your country?

Key words: 'To what degree ...?' and 'local languages' and 'influenced ... English' and 'your'.

- a question concerning the varieties of English spoken in various regions of the world
- beware answers describing the influence of English on local languages
- candidates need to illustrate the impact of local languages on spoken and/or written English
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

13 Would you consider your society to be too fashion conscious?

Key words: 'Would ...?' and 'your' and 'too'.

- emphasis on 'your' society required
- necessary to show whether the relevant society is 'too' conscious and if so, in which way
- examples required to support views
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

14 How far do you agree with the suggestion for paying to access content on the internet?

Key words: 'How far ...?' and 'paying to access'.

- people already pay for their own PC and broadband connection or they pay to use the services of internet cafes
- some hotels/cafes/restaurants provide free Wifi connections
- what, if any, particular content could/should merit an extra charge to access?
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

15 To what extent are Shakespeare's works still relevant today?

Key words: 'To what extent ...?' and 'still relevant'.

- Shakespeare keeps the reader/listener engaged: explores pertinent issues: challenges thoughts/opinions: plot, characters and themes are cleverly interwoven: emerging themes and ideas are timeless
- human flaws/faults, dilemmas and relationships transcend time
- characters being human are fallible, e.g. Macbeth being too ambitious and Hamlet struggling to come to terms with the death of his father
- love, friendship, betrayal and vengeance are timeless themes
- a voice is given to those marginalised in society, e.g. females in the later sixteenth/early seventeenth century
- the enrichment of the English language, e.g. Shakespeare is the most quoted author in the Oxford dictionary
- examples: 'all's well that ends well', 'the world is my oyster' and 'parting is such sweet sorrow'
- the entertainment value and range of subject matter, e.g. war, religious conflict, racial prejudice, class division
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated
